

Niall Hadden
Global Head of Talent Management BBH

Niall joined BBH in October 2006 in the newly created position of Global Head of Talent Management. He looks after existing and future leaders across the group; career development; succession planning; compensation management, along with some broader global operational responsibilities. Niall began his career in investment banking in Dublin. He then moved to London to take up a finance role at the Architectural Association. This was followed by a stint as HR Director/Managing Partner at WCRS Ltd (The Engine Group), where he was part of the buy-out team from Havas. Immediately prior to joining BBH he was a HR consultant running his own independent practice.

Niall holds an MSc in Strategic Human Resource Management, is a qualified executive coach, a 'Fellow' of the Chartered Institute of Personnel and Development and he is a licensed psychometrician!!
